

To the Prime Minister, Australia.

Inhumanity and Insanity

Australia's intervention in Iraq's 'domestic dispute' is insane.

"Insanity: doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results." - Albert Einstein

Intervention causes retribution against Australians and in Australia.

The Australian Government's failure to provide leadership and support for volunteer medical personnel to go to affected countries seeking help is inhumane. Would the government

1) urgently redeploy all suitably qualified personnel and resources from Iraq to the most needy Ebola-affected country.

2) withdraw from Iraq as soon as possible so that Iraqis can reach independent stability in their own way.

We should stop killing people and play our part in keeping deserving people alive.
